- ◎ The Solar Event of The Century is designed to ensure effectiveness of public expenditures, reduce unnecessary costs, raise the quality of electricity services, and minimize social and environmental impacts while seeking to reach specific policy objectives.

- ◎ Grand announcement of the more ambitious regional solar PV targets, seeking to develop 3,000 megawatts (MW) by 2021.

- ◎ Thailand is forecast to be the region’s largest market, driven by rapid growth in demand for electricity and the requirement to decrease its financial burden from imported energy. Short-term PV demand will emerge by executing on project pipelines accumulated from the previous Adder Support Scheme.
